

OVERVIEW

I am a Canadian photographer, filmmaker and writer, with a background in branding, creative direction and graphic design.

I have called Grande Prairie home since 2010, when I relocated from Calgary with my wife Laura, setting up Beauchamp Photography and doing various freelance design projects. My work has included writing, identity design, professional photography, print design and layout, narrative and commercial filmmaking, and editorial management.

I am an active member of the Grande Prairie photography, filmmaking, and theatre communities, serving on the boards of the Peace Region Media Arts Association, Alberta Media Arts Alliance Society, Grande Prairie Photography Club, and the organizing committee for the Reel Shorts Film Festival. In my downtime, I love to travel, read, write, and explore new artistic projects.
